

Enforcement Process Consulting

Due to Mr. Smrt's extensive experience on the NCAA Enforcement Staff, he has a very detailed knowledge of NCAA and other athletic organizations' enforcement processes and procedures. He and other TCG staff can serve as a consultant to the institution's investigative team on various issues in the investigation such as:

- Assessing case seriousness at any point during the institution's investigative process. A part of this assessment is to assist in the determination of whether the available information supports that a finding should be made. (Reference the "Articles" section of this website for more detailed information).
- Assisting in the determination of appropriate corrective and punitive actions, including disciplinary measures against institutional personnel.
- Preparing a report on whether a potential violation is secondary or major.
- Assisting the institution in preparing for a hearing. Mr. Smrt has been in attendance at over 100 hearings before the Committee on Infractions and can counsel an institution for its appearance before the Committee. Mr. Smrt also is available to appear with the institution.
